

Waterloo to World War 2

Spring Break Battlefield Study

8-16 March 2019

Waterloo to World War 2 (W2WW2) is a week-long Christian leadership program designed for cadets, midshipmen, and recently-commissioned graduates who are about to begin their careers leading America's military men and women. W2WW2 includes visits to a wide variety of battlefields, museums, cemeteries, and other historical and cultural sites in Belgium and France.

Waterloo

Participants will learn the strategic, operational, and tactical background behind many key engagements that shaped the history of Europe, from the battle of Waterloo through the WW2 Normandy landings. They will also be mentored in lessons of leadership by examining how individual heroism, mistakes, neglect, and actions or inaction often drove the outcome of key phases of important battles and campaigns.

Mulberry Harbor at Les Arromanches, Normandy

Additionally, each site offers spiritual object lessons related to leadership, integrity, and character that can be applied to the challenges facing today's young leaders.

W2WW2 is open to all rising military leaders who desire to grow in their Christian faith and learn how to integrate their faith with the leadership principles that they have studied and practiced during their training.

Fort Breendonk

The trip to Europe will be preceded by a short orientation period for participants to learn the background, outcome, and significance of the events that took place, and will be presented with other resources that can help to prepare them to more fully appreciate the sites they will visit, including maps, reading material, and videos.

Western Front Battle Sectors in WW1

13th Century Cloth House at Leper

The order in which sites are visited is not strictly chronological. In several strategic locations, battles follow a split chronology because the front lines swept back and forth across the same terrain at different times. In addition, participants will visit battlefields and fortifications from other wars as the group passes through natural strong points and communication routes that have invited battles for control throughout history. Thus the presentation of the sequence of events in each war is tempered with an ongoing discussion of the timeless principles of warfare and leadership.

W2WW2 is a fast-paced program. In order to allow maximum interaction, groups are limited to 8 participants, four from the U.S. and four from the U.K. This gives participants a chance to share different perspectives at the many sites they will visit.

WW1 Canadian advance dressing station in Flanders

A notional itinerary is provided below, but the specific itinerary can be tailored for the particular school.

The group will leave the U.S. Saturday, the day Spring Break begins, arriving in Brussels early on Saturday. Launching right into a full day of activity helps overcome jet lag more quickly. So, after picking up luggage, the group will visit places of interest in and around Brussels, including a WW2 concentration camp, a 12th century castle, the Royal Palace, and the Grand Place.

Brussels Grand Place

The second day in Europe begins with a trip to Waterloo, which has vantage points where one can see every major significant geographic feature involved in the battle. The visitor center and museum provide good background and present interesting artifacts from the battle, and the group will stop at key points on the battlefield that were critical in the final outcome.

Waterloo cuirass

Abbaye Villers

After leaving Waterloo, the group will visit the ruins of a nearby 12th Century abbey and discuss the impact of faith and religion on history.

W2WW2 will spend the next two days exploring sites from WW1, including the famous battlefields of Flanders and the Somme. They will visit trenches, museums, and memorials related to the bloody campaigns that were fought in the Flanders region. This was also the site of the first poison gas attack. They will also attend the “Last Post”

Thiepval Memorial, Somme

Bayewald German Trenches

ceremony at Ypres’ Menin Gate, which has been conducted every night since 2 July 1928, except during the German occupation in WW2. Participants will return with a deep appreciation of the scale of carnage that traumatized Europe and led to WW2.

Passing the site of the first tank battle, as well as the spot where the “Red Baron” was shot down, the group will drive to Normandy. En route, they will visit the castle of William the Conqueror, and will stay in the historic town of Bayeux, with its 11th century cathedral and famous tapestry commemorating the Norman conquest of England at the battle of Hastings.

Bayeux Tapestry

German defensive positions at Normandy

Participants will climb on the German defensive positions above the landing beaches before moving to Omaha and Utah beaches where American forces landed, as well as Pegasus Bridge, site of the famous U.K. commando raid.

Normandy D-Day landing beaches

Église, Ste Marie du Mont, and Point du Hoc, where Army Rangers scaled heavily defended 90 foot cliffs. There will also be a stop at the United States Cemetery above Omaha Beach.

Point du Hoc

Point du Hoc

Time permitting, the group will travel to the island monastery of Mont Saint Michel. Returning to Brussels, the group will fly out on Saturday morning and return to the U.S.

The 2019 trip will be led by Col Philip Exner, USMC (Ret) and MGen Roddy Porter, British Army (Ret).

Cost: $2300 from U.S., including airfare from NYC, lodging, food, transportation, and admissions.

For further information, contact the Association for Christian Conferences, Teaching, and Service (ACCTS).

(800) 487-8108 or (303) 985-8808

http://www.accts.org/contact_us.html

or email: deputy@accts.org

Traveling through the area where many of the hedgerow skirmishes were fought, they will visit other important D-Day locations, including Ste Mère

Waterloo

To

World War 2

Western Europe Battlefield Tour
For Tomorrow’s Military Leaders
8-16 March 2019